Did you order his latics kit 13:11

No gonna see how money goes till closer to payday. The top is £25 then the shorts are £10 and then delivery is £4. So if we don't over spend I'll get it x 13:17 ✓✓

I have zero overtime coming in this month x 13:17 ✓✓

Whatever 13:44

Do you know we need money to live 13:44 ✓✓

So let me get this straight, it's okay to spend 40 quid on your hundredth pair of trainers but not 35 on James' birthday present? I think you'll find the problem here is your attitude towards James. He's a child, not a robot and it's his birthday. I get 48 pound a week and rely on you for most things because we're married, I have a baby and don't have a job atm. You've always had an issue being a family. If you can't accept that I because we're married, I have a baby and don't have a job atm. You've always had an issue being a family. If you can't accept that I come as a package with James and Emily then we can't be a family. I've not slept in days, I'm not well and I'm having to look after three kids whilst throwing up, the least you could do is stop with your childish, petty, stubborn and argumentative shit because I'm honestly done with this fucking disgusting behaviour towards James. Remember you spent over 100 on Emily. Treat my kids differently and you won't see them again.

What trainers 14:12 ✓✓

What have care watch said about that job 14:13 ✓✓

James gets much more off me than Emily. 14:13 ✓✓

I'm paying £27 a month for his phone. I pay for his season ticket and Emily treats me like a human. James doesn't. That aside I'm not

... I pay for the season tickets and Emily treats me like a human.
James doesn't. That aside I'm not saying I'm seeing about the £40 to be a bastard it's cos I'm stressed off my tits about money. You don't seem to understand I don't have unlimited fucking money and all you want to do is spend spend spend. Take aways left right and centre. £50 fucking quid on burgers and fish and chips. Takes the fucking piss. I'm paying a loan for you cos you couldn't be arsed filling in the KGs K9s stuff for UC.
I'll probably have to pay that fucking fine for them as well as you can't be arsed ringing them. You want me to pay a fucking £2k solicitors bill as well as you can't be arsed asking about a payment plan. I'll have to get a fucking second job to pay that. I spend fuck all on myself. Was looking a pair of fucking trainers as mine are getting worn but didn't buy any as I can't justify spending £40 on myself. Sorry for being an evil cunt and imagining spending fucking money on myself. I am trying to spin a fucking million plates with and imagining spending fucking money on myself. I am trying to spin a fucking million plates with money and you don't seem to care

14:18 ✓

So to conclude. I get paid on the 25th if it's looking like I can afford it I'll fucking buy it

14:19 ✓

Not interested in you chatting shite to make you feel like you've justified yourself. I'm interested in how you treat my children. Doesn't matter how kids treat you, they are kids so you treat them the same regardless. I paid for the takeaway so I don't know what you're bringing that up for. Don't you dare have a go at me over takeaways when you fucking cry for a pizza or Chinese every fucking other day. Smother your food in sauces and cry that you're fat and blame me. I've put my body through hell to give you the child you wanted and I don't blame you, I have free will. Let's face it, your money is yours and anything for James and Emily I have to beg for. My god I've not bought a pair of fucking trainers in and anything for James and Emily I have to beg for. My god I've not bought a pair of fucking trainers in five fucking years, the soles are now smooth hence me slipping with the baby carrier whilst out walking. And can you fucking imagine the shit I would get if I bought some? You need to fucking decide what you want cause I'm sick of feeling like I have two fucking sons at each other's fucking throats, it's pathetic. If I dare mention that I wish I could have something that isn't a difficult task, I'm a fucking horrible person putting you down. If I ask you to buy James or Emily something you don't have any money but can buy Erin two dresses she doesn't fucking need and yourself a new armband/trainers/phone case every fucking month.

If I leave, you can go for as many jogs as you fucking want, take as much medication as you want and you can starve yourself and lose a bit of weight. I honestly think that'll make you happier than I ever will. I try to fill you with confidence

Katie Kelly Old

that'll make you happier than I ever will. I try to fill you with confidence about your body and just get criticised constantly. I can't win. My kids need support nurture and love if you aren't willing to provide that from now on, instead of the insults, demands and obvious favouritism you need to let me know. I can't carry on expecting you to be a better father figure if you aren't willing to change.

14:52

Well I've done fucking more this week for both of them than their biological fathers have done in their entire lives. So don't give me that shit. Fuck it I'll buy the fucking out fit fuck money. Fuck it all. Who gives a shit about financial pressures which you don't have a fucking clue about. My wage in without overtime is almost the same as my wage out. Been juggling paying fucking bills off then you pop up with new ones. Then I have to fucking beg work for more hours to pay fucking b' You do need to start looking for work though. We need a safety net for money if my overtime goes I work though. We need a safety net for money if my overtime goes. I will look for a second evening job as well so we can be sure to pay bills and still be able to work weekends if there is anything going. Also sorry for spending £6 on a case and armband this month. I'll try and cut down how much I splash out on myself going forward. I'll try and cut it down to £1 tops. Also you paid for that £50 take away which could be better spent on £50 asda shop. Also I don't beg for take aways much. You wanted one all weekend I managed us not to get one

I can't control who their dads are now but I can control who I subject them to whilst they're in my care. You managed to not get a takeaway 🤔 will you listen to yourself. I said I fancy fajitas did you get that sauce your reply was no I couldn't find it, Alfredo will be an hour. I said no I'll just have something in the house. You pushed it again and I said I'm not waiting until 9 Also START looking something in the house. You pushed it again and I said I'm not waiting until 9. Also START looking for jobs? You obviously aren't living on this planet right now. And I won't be made to feel guilty because you are spending 35 on your step son for his birthday. You wouldn't get ball all for Erin so I don't expect it for him. You treat them all the same like a normal decent person. I will not fight you to get you to do what is expected of you. I don't care if you're on 5k or on 33k I expect you to make allowances for children's birthdays. I used to fight constantly to get mal to act like a family man and do what is expected of him as a father/boyfriend and I will never do that again.

22:43

If you think you're gonna make me feel guilty for this think again because I expect this kit to arrive well in advance of his birthday so I can wrap it and feel confident everything will arrive in time and you will come home today and do something fun and fatherly with him cause I'm at the end of my Something run and ratherly with him cause I'm at the end of my fucking tether with the lot of it. He will pay you the same respect you pay him mate, he is not daft!
