Good afternoon,

In relation to the previous harassment mentioned, I have only managed to have a read at some of the jobs. A crime has been recorded for harassment, but this will be written up for closure.

- The harassment which is linked to the false allegations happened in the past. You have been able to prove with your own evidence that these did not occur.

PC Monaghan has spoken already to your ex-partner and because she is named as the offender on a crime, her supervision would have been made aware of it.

The crime for harassment will be written up for closure as there are no further lines of enquiry to be conducted.

Many thanks
