

My Em,

I can't express how grateful I am for you. You brought happiness, laughter and hope back into our home. You gave Grandpa Lee something to fight for and how he loved you. His greatest upset during lockdown was that he was missing you guys. You brought so much joy to our family.

You are strongwilled, intelligent, beautiful and caring. Please never change. Always know your worth.
Never settle for anything short of what you want. There's no day, out or friend that you cannot get over if someone mistreats you, do not accept it, no matter who they are. Your friend something you are passionate about and find a Career in it. But always have a backup plan. You have the world at your feet and can do anything be you, never change.

Your brother and sister adore you.

Please stick together and support one another. Siblings shoulder to shoulder can combat anything and there is nothing as precious as a sibling.
A parent for sure that knows you inside out.

Be happy. Love you more than you could ever possibly imagine, my blue eyed girl.

Hana heart

P.S. Love ^{the} your dad, keep him smiling (and busy)
