Nah I need to leave at 3m30 latest.
Good job I have good mates. 14:31

Yea it's handy. Unfortunately I have to work around the hours that are put in. In a real emergency I can bend the hours but can't be doing it every time especially for a serious meeting x 14:32 ✓✓

Will you be able to work tomorrow if you have the flu x 14:33 ✓✓

I don't have a choice mal I have no money and lots of bills and a house that you want me to put money towards 14:34

Think you need to reword it to a house you want that I can't afford by myself x 14:34 ✓✓

And you aren't allowing me to help you but are quite happy to moan at mw 14:35

When I get a permanent position I really hope you sort things out. You said it would be fine this week.

How am I not allowing you? You had a choice to work tonight but you chose the gym then stayed in bed. You literally can't have a go at me for lost earnings x

I still have to go to work. I can hand my notice in if you want and you can pay everything with alcedo wages. You're just being irrational. You need to understand I am working. You know 4-4:30pm is a normal working shift for me now. I can hopefully still do 2-3 days wfh each week but I have told you many times once the micro lab kicks off I'll be on site more. You have chosen a house in wigan

When I am on site I have no choice but to be out the house for a minimum of ten hours a day (more if there's traffic or issues) you can't have everything I am sorry x

As the case has been from day one of me working at quay I don't know. I am hoping I can get away with wfh Tuesday Thursday Friday. But that's not set in stone. I have to kinda be careful that I don't take the piss too much now people are coming back on site almost permanently as if I do I may lose out on wfh altogether x

4pm on Thursday but that's more laid back and the kids could help watch Erin on that one as I can say you've been called out if I'm really needed x

14:53 ✓

Friday currently no meetings. But all this can change and I really do have a lot to try and get through this week so please if I'm working from home you need to realise I am working I'm not just at home and childcare is 50:50 I have things to complete.

Also please don't get mad if I have to come in any of them days. Wfh is not a guarantee x

14:54 ✓

Would it be beneficial to put Erin in half days at nursery? Could trust Emily to stay with James if they're both on a device (it's legal and lots of people do it) or pay for her to go WYZ x

It's frustrating I missed out on time with my daughter so you could go the gym and walk the dogs. You did neither. Then to come home to a house in the state it is in is unfair X 19:27 ✓✓
