things out of proportion x 13:47

Well I can accept and try and help you with some of that but a large chunk of it is just having a go at me. I can help where I can but nothing I do is right. Even when I tell you exactly what I'm writing. Sometimes you need to chill out. There was an error made. I can see why you blame me for it but you can't seem to see why I hold you to a large chunk of the blame for them hearts. You need to be more calm and forgiving and not blow Saves a cunt. Youve known that for years. His dad has had nothing to do with you or the kids for years and years. You don't need them sort of people. You've gained Angela so that's neutral. Everyone else will still come.
